My fingers were losing their grip, slowly sliding off a rusty section of rain gutter. . . I felt a strong hand wrap around my swollen ankle and begin to pull. I couldn't hold on anymore. In a span of 100 hours, 11-year-old Justin Tymes world has been shattered. Still reeling from his father's unexplained disappearance and unsatisfied with the non-answers his mother has given him, he learns of his father's involvement with an elite team of engineers on the brink of developing a revolutionary new material, code-named C-Metal. With help from the school janitor, Justin unravels the clues to his father's disappearance, documenting his search in a mysterious, gold-edged journal his teacher gives him. As he searches for his dad, he copes with his mother's depression and struggles to protect his sister from their emotionally abusive stepfather. Search a Darker Sky is a rapid-fire psychological journey that propels Justin from boyhood to adolescence. I was blown away by the suspense in Search a Darker Sky. Truly an amazing story! One to be read by millions. Justin Stanton, age 13 I couldn't put the book down. I felt I was part of the story. I can hardly wait for the sequel! Yonatan Margalit, age 11 The Author: As a kid, Devik Schreiner had a bad haircut and wore his pants too short. He enjoyed reading almanacs, science fiction, and the backs of baseball cards. He plays the trumpet and piano, loves golf and the San Francisco Giants, and is known for balancing a pencil on his nose. Devik teaches middle school English and History in San Jose and lives in Los Gatos, California with his wife and twin...
