Excerpt: .aforesaid to revise, and thereby increase or diminish any such salary, having regard to the average number of inquests held by any such coroner in the five years immediately preceding, and subject, in case of their disagreement, to such appeal to the home secretary as before mentioned. It has been held that the words of the above enactment as to the salary of the county coroner, when first fixed, being not less than the average amount of fees actually received for the five years preceding, are not to be extended so as to govern the subsequent proviso relating to readjustment of the salary at the end of successive periods of five years; but that in such cases all the circumstances might be taken into account and the amount fixed at less than the average of the fees, mileage, and allowances during the five years immediately...
