

Life of Christian Samuel Hahnemann: Founder of Homoeopathy

By Rosa Waugh Hobhouse

B Jain Publishers Pvt Ltd. Hardback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Life of Christian Samuel Hahnemann: Founder of Homoeopathy, Rosa Waugh Hobhouse, This book follows the life of Hahnemann from his birth and boyhood at Meissen (1755) through his student years, his disillusionment with common medical practice, translations, physician for the mentally disordered and onwards. The book follows Hahnemann during his struggles to have Homeopathy accepted, his determination, his marriage to Melanie, his final years in Paris and his death in 1843. This book has been well researched and contains great detail. Rosa Hobhouse has used the private letters of Hahnemann to enable us to see the person, the poet, the humanitarian, the loving father and the compassionate defender of human rights that Hahnemann was. This is a fascinating insight to Hahnemann the person and to Germany at the time of Hahnemann.

Reviews

Extensive information for book fans. It is written in basic words and never hard to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

This publication is great. It is full of wisdom and knowledge. You will not really feel monotony at any time of the time (that's what catalogs are for relating to when you ask me).
